Forecast For Southwest England
Issued by Met Office Exeter
at 0400 on Sunday 31 Jan 2021

++ Valid for broadcast between 0600 and 1800

Headline:
Cloudy for most, rain, especially in the west.

Today:
Cold start with a few icy stretches. Cloud thickens through the morning creating a murky day for most. Turning wet and windy in the west, with breezy conditions and some lighter and more patchy rain extending to more eastern parts. Maximum temperature 8 deg C (46 deg F).

Tonight:
A cloudy evening with outbreaks of rain, becoming very light and patchy. Dry for many overnight though further rain developing in the west later. Lighter winds. Minimum temperature 3 deg C (37 deg F).

Monday:
A cloudy day. Rain for a time in the morning, especially in the west. Drier around lunchtime, before patchy rain returns during the afternoon. Becoming breezy from the southwest later. Maximum temperature 10 deg C (50 deg F).

Outlook for Tuesday to Thursday:
Windy on Tuesday with overnight rain giving way to sunshine and blustery showers. Remaining unsettled on Wednesday and Thursday with further rain at times. Generally mild.

(C) Crown Copyright 2021. Published by the Met Office.